

Who are Access Waste?

Founded in 1978 by Michael and Francis Lawlor, Lawlor Bros. (Waste Disposal) Ltd., trading as Access Waste Recycling, offers a fully compliant waste management service, comprising of collection, processing, consultation and waste auditing services. Our waste management and collection services are known for their personalised and professional ethos.

Access Waste currently serves over 2000 customers and employs over 40 people in the greater Dublin area. We operate a fully EPA licensed materials recovery facility off the Naas Road in Dublin, and operate under a stringent environmental management system certified to the international ISO 14001 standard.

Mission Statement:

The company's mission is to facilitate the reduction and recovery of waste, by providing an accessible, reliable and personal service to our customers.

Access Waste Recycling – Our facilities

Our centre of operations consists of our materials recovery facility in JFK Industrial Estate, just off the Naas Road in Dublin.

The Access Waste fleet operates from this facility and consists of a range of vehicles to suit all waste needs, from mini skip collection, to articulated tipper trailers, to roadsweeping.

Our refuse collection vehicles (RCV's) carry state-of-the-art weighing and satellite tracking systems that allow us to provide detailed reports of wastes handled and keep track of our vehicles progress and routes. You will never have to worry about a missed collection again
